

University of Essex

MSc Artificial Intelligence

Module: IA_PCOM7E January 2026

Unit 11: Development Individual Project: Presentation

Grade: 86% (Distinction)

Feedback

Knowledge and understanding of the topic

You show excellent understanding of the topic, with a strong grasp of agent roles, coordination, and the wider rationale behind the moderation system. The project is original in direction while still being well connected to the module.

Presentation and communication skills

The presentation is polished, professional, and easy to follow. You communicate complex ideas clearly and maintain a strong standard throughout.

Criticality

There is strong evaluative thinking and good justification of the project choices. To push the work even higher, you could deepen the discussion of ethical and practical limitations further.

Structure and presentation

The presentation is very well structured and feels purposeful from start to finish. The organisation supports a high academic and professional standard.

Use of relevant sources

The supporting material is relevant and strengthens the presentation well. The sources are used effectively to support the project direction and rationale.